Woffpack Weekly

What's Coming Up @SJS-Fullerton!

From the Principal's Desk

Our students continue to impress me, and this past weekend was no exception, as some of them attended the Math Olympiad at The Catholic High School of Baltimore to compete against peers. Our young ladies worked hard and earned impressive scores! A special thanks to Mr. Croughn for leading them through this challenge. Visit our Facebook page to see photos.

Don't forget to register for parent/teacher conferences, as registration closes tonight. The time is limited so please only meet with those you feel you need to.

As fall fun continues, let's not forget that our number one priority here at SJS-Fullerton is always a solid Catholic education rooted in our faith. As members of this campus, we must ensure that we are setting positive examples in our words and actions for all students who look to us as guides.

Celebrating All Saints' Day
at St. Joseph Church & School

"Saints go Marching In"

 Sunday, October 30th at the 10:30am Mass we will be celebrating All Saints' Day!

Come to Mass dressed as a saint!
We would like to honor the saints by having the children dress up like their favorite saint and they will process around the church in celebration of the lives of the saints.

 Click for Sign-up Genius to let us know which Saint you will be!
